

Truman Speaks Out For Civil Rights Plan

Doesn't See How We Can Avoid It

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—President Truman spoke out today for his controversial civil rights program and declared he does not see "how we can do otherwise" than adopt it.

"It is encouraging," he said, "to see that Americans all over the country are growing more and more aware of the importance of this problem."

The president took the occasion of an Armistice Day address before the national conference of Christians and Jews to re-emphasize his determination to demand passage of civil rights legislation when Congress returns next January.

Discrimination In U. S.
"If we look at ourselves in the true spirit of brotherhood," Mr. Truman said, "we must acknowledge that in the United States there are instances of discrimination and injustice because of difference in color, religion or national origin."

"But we are working diligently to overcome these violations of the fundamental faith which holds us together. I have asked that our federal government take an active part in this effort to achieve greater justice. I have called for legislation to protect the rights of all citizens, to assure their equal participation in national life and to reduce discrimination based upon prejudice."

During the last congressional session, the lawmakers were split far apart on the long-fought civil rights issue.

Southern Demos Block Action
Southern democratic senators effectively blocked the administration's early session drive to clear the way for enactment of anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and anti-job discrimination legislation. Congress adjourned without enacting a single phase of the program and thus the big battle was postponed until 1950.

In his speech today, Mr. Truman indirectly but vigorously attacked religious and other forms of persecution in Russia and her satellite countries.

Without mentioning the Soviet bloc by name, Mr. Truman declared: "In various parts of the world today, human rights and freedom are being deliberately violated and suppressed. Men and women are being systematically persecuted for their religious beliefs. Campaigns are being waged to turn religion into a tool of the state."

17 Bell Aircraft Workers Convicted Of Court Contempt

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Seventeen men were convicted today on charges of contempt of court resulting from a mass parade of about 500 unionists through the Bell Aircraft Corp. plant during a recent strike.

Shortly after a State Supreme court jury returned the verdict, Justice William H. Munson sentenced all but three to the maximum penalty of 30 days in jail and $250 fine. The three received the fines but no jail sentences.

Identical jail penalties and fines, also were given 21 unionists convicted two weeks ago on similar charges resulting from alleged disorders in connection with the strike. Their sentencing had been deferred until the decision in the other case.

Ten of those convicted today were among the first 21 tried. Their sentences were to run consecutively, making a total of 60 days in jail.

All the convictions were for alleged violations of a temporary injunction restricting picketing activities at the plant.

Witness Disputes Rio's Testimony On Plane Disaster

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Testimony by Bolivian pilot Erick Rio, who said he saw another plane land just few seconds before his P-38 fighter plane crashed here, was disputed by witnesses at a federal hearing today.

Rio, chief of Bolivian civilian aviation, has contended in a sworn statement that he never saw the eastern DC-4 but did see a smaller, aircraft land at Washington National airport.

He said he had received instructions from the airport control tower that he was No. 2 in the order of landing, and that after seeing the other plane land and taxi away, he thought he was free to come in.

Rio was the lone survivor of the collision with the DC-4 in which 51 passengers and four EAL crewmen lost their lives. It was the worst air disaster in history.

Predict Britain Will Recognize Red China

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—British and American diplomats predicted tonight that Britain will give full diplomatic recognition to the Chinese communist government by the end of this year.

A British diplomat said recognition was recommended to the London government by a reluctant conference of commonwealth leaders and British diplomats in the East, which was held in Singapore. Informants here said the only real questions now outstanding are the exact timing of the action and how to do it in a manner which will be least disturbing to Anglo-American relations.

The United States, top American informants said, has no intention of recognizing the Chinese communists any time in the near future.

Britain was reported to have kept the American, French and other Western governments informed of its position on recognition including the results of the Singapore meeting.

Lewis Is Willing To Attend Talks

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(AP)—International problems may have proved a boon to the bedding industry.

J. P. Manning, secretary and general manager of the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers, said in a statement today the industry has done a record business since the war ended, and summed up: "It could be that people are going to bed to escape domestic and international complications."

Without mentioning the Soviet bloc by name, Mr. Truman declared: "In various parts of the world today, human rights and freedom are being deliberately violated and suppressed. Men and women are being systematically persecuted for their religious beliefs. Campaigns are being waged to turn religion into a tool of the state."

Reports US Labor Picture Improved Last Two Months

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The employment picture in the nation's industrial centers brightened somewhat during late September and October, the U. S. labor department reported today.

Encouraging factors noted by the bureau:

1. A decline from 35 to 33 in the number of areas with very substantial labor surpluses—known as "E" areas.
2. Unemployment declines in 30 of the 35 areas classed as "E" areas in early September, and
3. Employment increases in 26 of the areas.

Labor bureau director Robert C. Goheen in a report to secretary of labor today said that as a result of the October survey, five areas classed as "E" in September have been removed from that category and three new areas added.

The areas removed from the list of those with heavy unemployment include Jackson, Port Huron and the upper peninsula copper areas in Michigan; Burlington, Vt., and Manchester, N.H.

Protests Trial, Life Term; Gets Death Sentence

Hillsboro, O., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Cecil Yankey, who wasn't satisfied with a life term for the slaying of an old age pensioner, ended up today with a mandatory death penalty.

A Highland county jury found the 41-year-old Hillsboro man guilty of first degree murder in the slaying of 71-year-old Leroy Woodland.

The jury did not recommend mercy. That makes the death penalty mandatory in Ohio.

Yankey pleaded guilty in his first trial for the slaying of Woodland March 20, 1947, during a robbery. He was sentenced to life imprisonment. After he had served two and a half years in Ohio penitentiary, Yankey challenged the validity of his sentence because it was handed down by a one-judge court, instead of by a jury or a three-judge panel.

The courts upheld contention of his counsel, Miss Cecile Shapiro, that the sentence was illegal. But they overruled her contention that Yankey couldn't be made to face the trial again on the same charge.

In the second trial, ended today, a jury of eight men and four women stayed out three hours before reporting to the court.

The newsmen for one edition of a metropolitan Sunday paper acquired about 24 acres of forest.

President Selects Oskar L. Chapman To Succeed Krug

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—President Truman today selected Oskar L. Chapman for Secretary of the Interior as he accepted the resignation of Julius A. Krug in a warm note which overlooked reported differences on policy.

Chapman, 53, will climax 164 years service with the department when he takes over December 1. He has been undersecretary since 1946 after three years as assistant secretary.

The hefty 6-foot-4 Krug resigned in an exchange of friendly letters with Mr. Truman. Krug's stated reason: "We have done a pretty good job of accomplishing our objectives."

According to Mr. Truman, Krug had been offered a job in the private sector but he had declined it. Krug's resignation was accepted with sincere regret, his letter began "Dear Cap," which is Krug's nickname.

There was little, if any, hint in the letter of reported cooling of relations between Mr. Truman and the man he named in March, 1946, to take the place vacated by Harold I. Ickes.

Top officials of the department of defense sounded the preparedness note in speeches over the radio.

Technicality Keeps Yugo From Telling On Russia In U.N.

Lake Success, Nov. 11.—(AP)—A Yugoslav delegate was prevented today by a technicality from telling the United Nations about what he described as Russian troop movements in Soviet satellites bordering his country, but his story emerged anyway.

When Husky Vladimir Dedijer, one of Premier Marshal Tito's chief trouble-shooters, tried to reply to an earlier statement made by A. S. Panyushkin, Soviet ambassador to Washington, the committee chairman ruled him out of order.

Charles E. Stok, Venezuelan chairman of the General Assembly's 58-nation social committee, asked the Yugoslav spokesman to stick to the subject under discussion—the problem of refugees and stateless persons.

The United Mine Workers president told newsmen: he would meet next week with Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, "or anybody else," in an effort to reach a settlement.

Ching said in Washington, after learning of Lewis' statement, that he has no present plans to arrange new coal peace meetings.

Must Be More Specific
An operator spokesman, Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers' association, commented that "unless Lewis is more specific and shows some sign of modifying his previous position, there is no use in resuming negotiations."

The UMW head reiterated his explanation of his failure to show up for a Washington meeting called by Ching yesterday, explaining he was trying to get the miners back into the pits.

Lewis suddenly called off the 32-day coal strike Wednesday for a three-week period ending Dec. 1.

Coal Diggers Back In Pits
Most of the coal diggers already have gone back to work. All are expected to do so by next Monday.

The UMW head referred to yesterday's scheduled meeting as "the Ching-Piano in Washington."

At the last minute, he had sent a message to Ching saying he could not be present until Monday. The federal official held this to be unsatisfactory and indicated that mediation efforts would be dropped.

Lewis said that Ching "arbitrarily fixed Thursday for a meeting without consultation as to the miners' convenience." Members of the UMW Policy committee were busy yesterday trying to get the miners back to their jobs, he said.

In Washington, government officials were reported ready to sound out Lewis on the idea of appointment of a presidential fact-finding board similar to the one which helped resolve the steel dispute.

2 Former Members Of Al Capone Gang Ordered To Prison

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Two former members of the late Al Capone's Chicago gang were ordered today to prison today by the U. S. circuit court of appeals.

The appeals court ruled that Louis "Little New York" Campagna and Charles "Cherry Nose" Goe must finish serving their 10 year federal prison terms.

Campagna has been reported living on his 800 acre farm near Fowler, Ind., and Goe in Chicago.

They were paroled on Aug. 13, 1947, after serving one-third of their sentences for conspiracy to extort $1,000,000 from movie producers by threatening them with labor trouble.

A future arrest in Illinois over the matter, and a congressional committee headed by Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) investigated.

Costly Strike Ends As Big Steel Signs Pact With CIO

Americans Pay Respect To War Dead On 31st Armistice Day

By the Associated Press

Americans paid their respects Friday to the dead of two World Wars while the nation's military leaders counseled full preparedness against a third.

President Truman led the observance of the 31st anniversary of the World War I Armistice by laying a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington National cemetery. Later he spoke at a conference of Christians and Jews, declaring that the unknown fighting man's grave symbolizes the nation's faith and unity.

"No American knows, and no real American cares, whether that man was a Catholic, a Jew or a Protestant, or what his origin and color were," the President said, calling for an end to discrimination and injustice.

Top officials of the department of defense sounded the preparedness note in speeches over the radio.

"Weakness breeds war, strength commands respect and discourages war," Secretary of Defense Johnson asserted in a speech at St. Louis.

Secretary of Air Sympington laid heavy emphasis on the waste of war, in human lives and natural resources. World War II, he said, caused more than a million American casualties, in dead and wounded. The two world conflicts, he added, used up such national resources as coal, iron and oil and timber at an alarming rate.

"It doesn't take a military or political expert to see that these facts and figures mean that we must do everything in our power to prevent recurrence of those international disasters called 'World Wars,'" he said in a speech at Welch, W. Va.

Gordon Gray, secretary of the army, told a Greenville, S.C., audience for this was the failure of the United States and other nations to achieve enduring peace after the first World War.

Agrees To Bethlehem Formula

Pittsburgh, Nov. 11.—(AP)—United States Steel Corporation and CIO United Steelworkers made peace this Armistice Day, ending America's most costly steel strike.

Big Steel, the nation's No. 1 producer employing 150,000, agreed to the Bethlehem company insurance-pension formula which cracked the economy crippling strike.

Union President Philip Murray said the strike settlement is effective at midnight. U. S. Steel announced its mills will be making steel again by Tuesday or Wednesday.

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—This year's steel strike was the sixth big one in the industry since the turn of the century.

Here are the others, the year they occurred, their duration and number of steelworkers involved, as listed by the U. S. Labor Department:

- 1801—Two months, 75,000.
- 1919—Three and a half months, 387,000.
- 1927—Two months, 92,000.
- 1943—Two days, 134,000.
- 1946—25 days (longer with some firms), 750,000.

The present steel strike started Oct. 1. The first big settlement was with Bethlehem Steel on Oct. 31.

Four Others Follow Suit
Four smaller firms with a payroll of 21,000 settled on the same terms during the day. They are Colorado Fuel and Iron, 15,000; North Steel, 11,000; Follansbee, 1,100; and Pottsville, 1,200.

Inland Steel, 14,000 and Allegheny Steel, 12,500, also are near agreements.

U. S. Steel and the others making Armistice Day settlements brought to 375,000 the number of workers covered by contracts signed since the start of the 42-day strike.

Nearly 138,000 are still idle but are employed in small concerns which are expected to come into the fold quickly now.

Settlement by all the top steel-makers—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Jones and Laughlin—puts production back to near normal.

Big Steel Agreement
The Big Steel agreement was signed about 7 p.m. (Central Standard Time) in a 17th floor conference room of Hotel William Penn by Murray and John A. Stephens, vice president of the corporation.

The 35-year negotiating committee which ratified the agreement witnessed the ceremony.

Frequent cheering and good natured joking punctuated the event and sometimes made it hard for newsmen to hear Murray's statement on the settlement.

Announcing end of the strike, Murray said: "The agreement embodies in substance all the benefits set forth in the contracts effectuated with the other companies."

Other pacts signed by major steel producers give $162 minimum monthly pensions to workers aged 65 with 25 years of service. The employer pays the entire cost.

An insurance program, costing five cents an hour, is also provided. That cost is divided equally by company and workers.

Murray complimented the corporation on the "harmonious meetings" during the last three days in which the agreement was worked out. He said the sessions "were marked by a spirit of wholesomeness and good faith."

Officer Loses $10 To Counterfeiter
Youngstown, O., Nov. 11.—(AP)—A few days ago Police Sgt. Charles Bush went to a bar to check a $10 bill offered by a stranger to pay for his drinks. The bartender thought the bill was counterfeit and called police.

"Bosh," said Bush. "This bill is good. I'll take 1,000 of them."

But the bartender shook his head. "Tell you what," he said to this police sergeant, "if you think the bill is good, why don't you change it to a 10-spot was phony."

Bush gave the stranger two five-dollar bills.

West Skeptical Over Russ Claims In Atomic Field

Says Papers Must Recapture Public

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 11.—(AP)—The University Press club of Michigan was told today that newspapers must adopt a "well-rounded public relations program" to win back their public following.

This advice came from W. R. Walton, managing editor of the South Bend, Ind., Tribune.

"Most papers have not been molders of public opinion, at least not since 1932," he said.

He cited as an example recent presidential elections in which the vote has gone opposite to the views expressed on editorial pages.

The reading public, Walton said, passes up the editorial pages for the comics.

Rain Chases Last Shades Of Summer From U. S. Plains

By the Associated Press

Rain and chilly weather chased Indian summer out of the plains; states Friday.

But mild, sunny skies smiled on the southeast quarter of the country, Kansas City, Mo., Burlington and Des Moines, Ia., Baltimore and New York had their hottest; Nov. 11 on record.

It was 77 in Baltimore, battering a 50-year mark by five degrees. Cherry trees were blooming in City Park. In New York it was 73, topping the previous high of 64.3 set in 1945.

Kansas City reported a sizzling 81, but a sharp temperature drop was forecast. Snow flurries fell in parts of Kansas.

Iowa had its warmest Armistice Day in history. It was 70 at Burlington, shattering a 49-year record, and 71 at Des Moines.

Hickerson Pleads Anew For Control Of Atomic Energy

Lake Success, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Assistant Secretary of State John D. Hickerson today told the United Nations and the Soviet Union especially, that countries which can level mountains in peace time with atomic energy who can level cities in war.

He implied that this is one of the best arguments for international control of the atom for peaceful uses.

Hickerson made a short reply in the special political committee of the U.N. assembly to the 90-minute speech yesterday by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. The Russian delegate said the Russians are using the atom for such peaceful jobs as moving mountains, irrigating deserts and clearing jungles and arctic wastes. Vishinsky was not on hand to hear the American reply.

Not Sure That Russian Scientists Know That Much

New York, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Moscow's peace propaganda offensive has taken a bold step into a new field. But the venture does not stand up well under critical examination, unless Russian scientists know far more than those in the United States know, or have told.

For months the Russian propaganda drive has centered about the theme that the Soviet union alone among the big powers, is the champion of world peace.

Now, with general acceptance of the report that the Soviet Union has an atom bomb, the pattern has developed further. It pictures Russia, alone among the big powers, as using atomic energy strictly for peacetime projects.

Unless the Russians have a much vaster knowledge of atomic energy and its uses than any scientists in the west, the latest Russian pronouncements on the atom—form Lake Success, from East Germany, and from Moscow—must be looked upon primarily as a propaganda maneuver.

As propaganda, the Communist pronouncements fall into the familiar, logical pattern.

Sounded In East Germany
The keynote first was sounded last week in the Communist-controlled press of Eastern Germany. The press story was that the Soviet Union was blasting away mountains and diverting rivers and creating a great channel where once there was nothing but wasteland.

This was picked up and elaborated upon before the United Nations at Lake Success by Soviet Foreign Minister A. Y. Vishinsky. Russia, he said, uses the power of the atom to move mountains, to irrigate deserts, to cut through jungles and arctic wastes, to spread happiness and prosperity.

It may be significant that Vishinsky's speech was an unscheduled one. It might have been the result of a sudden decision—or a sudden word from Moscow—also may be significant that Vishinsky, when asked by reporters to tell where the Soviet Union was making this use of atomic energy, replied:

"I can't say, because I am not informed. I only know about it in a general way."

HIC Proposes Plan Like Ford's For Pension, Insurance

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(AP)—A new pension-insurance program, similar to the Ford Motor Company's new system, was proposed today by International Harvester company to 82,000 employees.

The company made the proposal to two large unions which claim to represent 49,000 Harvester workers in several states. It said the plan is available to other hourly-paid and piecework workers represented by a number of smaller unions. The two large unions have been asking for increased benefits.

Harvester said the plan would cost the company ten cents an hour and a total of $12,000,000 a year.

A company spokesman said the plan is patterned after the recent Ford-CIO agreement, rather than the Bethlehem Steel formula.

Since April Harvester has been negotiating with the CIO United Auto Workers (UAW) and the Farm Equipment Council (FEC) of the United Electrical Workers. These talks are continuing.

To Operate To Try To Save Girl's Eye

Portland, Ore., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Mary Hope Hodgson, a 12-year-old girl who has the only good eye in a family of three, will be operated upon tomorrow in an attempt to save that last eye.

Surgeons plan to complete treatment started last June. They will seal off cysts attacking the edge of the retina of the eye, to keep the retina from detaching.

Detachment of the retina has already blinded one of Mary Hope's eyes, and cost her mother all sight. (The father, too, is blind, because of an accident.)

B-29 Bomber Goes Out Of Control, Crashes; 2 Killed

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—(AP)—An air force B-29 went out of control and fell in flames onto a farm west of here today. Two of its 12 crewmen were killed.

The bodies of the two men, who had parachuted with the other crew members, were found near the scattered wreckage of the big plane.

Names of the men were not announced.

None of the survivors was injured seriously. They were taken to Billings hospital and the base hospital at Benjamin Harrison air base and to the Veterans Administration hospital here.

The pilot, Lt. Robert D. Carlstrom of Minneapolis, told of the terrifying experience aboard the long-range bomber before it started down out of control from 17,000 feet.

The flames broke out in the extreme left of the four engines.

He said he ordered the crew to jump but there was some delay because the intercommunication system had gone out.

Crommelin Softens His Attack On US Defense Policies

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Navy Capt. John G. Crommelin softened his previous criticism of national defense policies today, but didn't back down.

He told an Armistice Day crowd it is the people's "patriotic duty to keep informed and interested in the organization and administration" of the armed forces, and added:

"There is no place in this democracy of ours for a 'yes-man.' It was the Montgomery-born naval hero's first public appearance since he was restored to duty Tuesday and given an official reprimand for slipping "confidential" navy documents to newspapermen.

The letters showed that several top-ranking admirals agreed with Crommelin in the belief that Pentagon high command policies were stilling the navy. The inter-service wrangle brought on a House armed services committee investigation.

Halt Timber Fire After Hard Fight At Parlier Farm

A fire, which was discovered about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, burned between 30 and 40 acres of timber, eight miles from Beardstown but was brought under control before adjacent timberland was destroyed.

The fire, of undetermined origin, started in the timber on the land belonging to Tom Parlier, whose farm is located about eight miles south of Beardstown. The blaze damaged the timber as well as a saw mill, located there, and owned by E. H. Hays.

Approximately 30 men, the majority of them farmers in that section, gathered at the scene of the fire and were successful in keeping the blaze from spreading to adjacent land and threatening nearby farm homes.

It was reported that the volunteers worked in shifts all night, keeping a watch on the fire and preventing small fires from spreading.

At the saw mill, the steam engine was damaged by the fire, and the sawdust pile was destroyed, but not too much damage was done to the lumber, as volunteers brought trucks to the mill and hauled away the lumber piles. Virtually all the lumber was saved, it was reported here.

Dollar loss in the fire was not too great, according to early reports, inasmuch as a great deal of the timber had already been cut.

Volunteer fire-fighters did a heroic job in keeping the flames from spreading to nearby farms and homes. The high wind threatened to carry the flames beyond the Parlier timberland, but the men managed to keep the blaze under control by starting back-fires and also by topping some of the trees in the timberland.

STATES BOOST TAXES

Chicago—(P)—State legislatures pushed many taxes up to higher levels this year. The Commerce Clearing House, a private organization which compiles reports on tax and business laws, issued a summary that showed 52 tax hikes.

The tax increases were on gasoline in 15 states, liquor in ten, cigarettes in nine, personal income in eight, corporate income in six and sales in four. In addition, new taxes were placed on sales in three states, on cigarettes in two and on liquor in one.

Crop Production Control Appears To Be Unneeded

Washington, Nov. 11—(P)—Midwestern farmers apparently have been saved from rigid crop production controls in 1950 by Harvest-time reductions in this year's official production estimates.

During the summer growing season, controls appeared inevitable next year on two major midwestern crops—corn and wheat.

But wheat failed to turn out as well as had been forecast. As a consequence, the Agriculture Department announced in July that wheat marketing quotas would not be necessary next year.

Corn appeared to be in line for quotas until the Agriculture Department issued a semi-final report yesterday showing a decline of 119,000,000 bushels in prospect for this crop. The revised estimate is a crop of 3,358,000,000 bushels.

This reduction in crop apparently has pulled it down below the level at which, under farm laws, the Department would be required to propose marketing quotas. No final decision is expected, however, until after the December crop report is issued.

Midwestern farmers will produce next year's corn and wheat crops under government planting allotments. Allotments tell a farmer just how much land he should plant to a given crop. While he is free to ignore them, only those farmers complying are eligible for government price supports on the crops.

Quotas are much more restrictive than allotments in their effect on production. Sales in excess of a quota are subject to a heavy penalty tax. Because they are more restrictive, they must be approved by at least two thirds of the growers voting in a referendum.

$57,015 Payment For Morgan County Schools

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 11—(P)—Illinois school districts will receive a partial payment totaling $10,927,322 in state school aid, state Auditor Benjamin O. Cooper said today.

The amount represents 75 per cent of the claims for July, August, September and October.

Cooper announced yesterday he was releasing part of the $100,319,000 two-year school aid funds to ease a "critical" financial situation.

The funds have been held up awaiting an Illinois supreme court decision on the method of distribution. The court is expected to rule this month on whether equalization payments must be cut in order to pay flat grants in full. These are the two major forms of state aid to schools.

Of the $10,927,322 partial payment, $4,371,155 represents flat grant money and $6,556,167 is equalization

Brands Communism, Atomic Bomb Chief Obstacles To Peace
An Armistice Day audience Friday morning in Central Park heard a man who has served as chaplain in two wars declare that "the world with slow and painful steps is trying to find its way back to peace and security."
Dr. Arthur F. Ewert, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, who holds the rank of colonel, branded Communism and fear of the atomic bomb as the two chief obstructions in the path to peace.
The services in the park were held at the conclusion of an impressive parade by veteran's organizations and civic groups in which hundreds of men and women marched.
Dr. Ewert, the speaker of the day, was state chaplain of the American Legion in 1923, and is at present chaplain of Jacksonville Post 279, American Legion.
Commander William Cochran of the Legion post was chairman of the program in the park. The invocation was offered by Rev. Leslie Heuston of Central Christian church, and group singing was led by Mrs. Cecil Manning.
Retail stores in Jacksonville closed during the day.
Dr. Ewert in his Armistice Day message said in part:
"On the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of the year 1918-31 years ago today—the Armistice ended World War I. That first global war began August 1, 1914, and continued through more than four purgatorial years, costing millions of lives and multiplied billions of treasure."
"Two mountains are obstructing the path to peace: Communism that preaches change by violence and revolution; and the paralyzing fear occasioned by the atom bomb."
"The Bible tells us that faith will remove mountains. Faith in the righteousness and vitality of our America—will be our answer to Communism; a righteousness and vitality that will correct all errors and outlive all wrongs within or without our borders; for 'since right is right, and God is God, then right the day must win; to doubt would be disloyalty, to falter would be sin.' And faith will overcome fear. Atomic power may yet become the blessing and not the curse of the human race—when placed in the hands of peace-loving, humane-hearted, God-fearing men."
"God give us such men!"
"Eighty-six years ago this very month, November 18, 1863, President Lincoln, on the battleground of Gettysburg, saw the fresh wounds of earth that told of men who had to die for their faith. In imagination, on this Armistice Day, we can see the little white crosses underneath all skies around the globe where our comrades have fallen in defense of the faith that is America. So, may we truly say with Lincoln, 'It is for us, the living to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us; that from the people, the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.'"

100 Boy Scouts Attend Annual District Meeting
Nearly a hundred members of Blackhawk district, Boy Scouts of America, met at a potluck dinner, marking the first annual district meeting, held at the First Methodist church in Beardstown. Members of the district committee, Scout leaders, parents and Scouts were present when the group re-elected Henry Wright of Virginia as district chairman. Other members elected were D. L. Welborne of Beardstown, vice-chairman; Charles Hagener of Beardstown, neighborhood commissioner. Members of the executive board of Abraham Lincoln council are Henry Wright of Virginia, Herman Blondett of Beardstown, D. L. Welborne of Beardstown and Ben Barnett of Virginia.
The invocation was given by Rev. E. B. Morton, of the First Methodist church. The meeting was presided over by Henry Wright, district chairman. Ben Barnett of Virginia gave the report of the nominating committee and conducted the election of officers.
District Executive D. M. McDonnell gave the district report, stating that eight new Scout and Cub units were organized in 1949 in the communities of Beardstown, Bluff Springs, Chandlerville, Arenzville and Virginia.
He also reported on the district camporee, the Scouts attending Camp Illinois, and pointed out that Scouts in this district had participated in the following events: Scout's gold rush, 1949-50 crusade, Lincoln pilgrimage, Scout leaders' training conference, district meetings, parent's meetings for Scouts and Cub Scouts of honor, mid-west first aid meet, Scout and Cub roll call, troop games and hikes and leader's meetings and also attended the executive board and executive committee meetings of the Abraham Lincoln Council.
It was pointed out that the total membership of the Blackhawk district has reached an all-time high of 191 different registered boys in the Scouting program. This is almost a 200% increase in membership since the district was organized.
The speaker of the evening was William E. Hoffmann, Scout executive of the Abraham Lincoln council, who had as his topic, "New Horizons in the Scouting Program."

The door was badly damaged. Company employees bearded up the opening for the night. The bed of the truck was also damaged.
Motorists on North Main street managed to dodge the truck, which barely missed the new pavement laid on Douglas avenue Wednesday.

'Shoot The Works' Is Byword As Illinois Battles Ohio State

Columbus, O., Nov. 11.—(AP)—A "shoot the works" football game was in the offing today, with Illinois and Ohio State providing the pyrotechnics tomorrow before a homecoming crowd of 82,000 in the Buck stadium.

Each team boasts a high-geared offensive setup, and both are slated to pull out all the stops in hopes of staying in the Western conference title race and getting a bid for the Rose Bowl.

They've practically deadlocked going into the big game, Ohio with three conference wins and one loss.

Mason Campbell's Roodhouse Quintet Has 5 Lettermen

Roodhouse — Heralded the most successful coach in the Illinois Valley conference, Mason "Humpty" Campbell is preparing a Roodhouse basketball squad that is bolstered by five returning lettermen, for a stiff winter schedule.

Campbell, in his 14th year as Railroad mentor, enjoys the distinction of being the only Greene county coach to ever school a state tournament team. He accomplished the feat in 1939.

The portly Roodhouse mentor is assisted this year by Charles Brooks, a graduate of Western State College. The coaches will be working with the remnants of a squad that won 10 and lost 14 ball games last winter, but finished second in Illinois Valley conference competition.

Returning lettermen are seniors Maurice Hutton, James Hanson, Duane Bill, Ellis Sizem and Junior Harold Garner. Boys who have shown up well in early practices are Donald Crabtree, James Selvers, Ross Copley, John Bess, Tilly Myers and Guy Gonterman.

Campbell lost six lettermen off last year's "jolt" quintet.

The Railroad coach includes two tournaments — Winchester Invitational and Greene county meet. Roodhouse opens with Pittsfield Dec. 2 in a conference mix.

The Schedule:
Dec. 2—Pittsfield
Dec. 6—At Waverly
Dec. 9—At White Hall
Dec. 13—At Pittsfield
Dec. 16—At Jerseyville

Jan. 3—At Arenzville
Jan. 6—Carrollton
Jan. 7—At Woodriver

McEwen Wins Big 10 Cross Country Meet For Record

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Sophomore Don McEwen of Michigan finished 200 yards ahead of defending champion Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin to score a record-breaking individual victory in the Big Ten cross-country meet today.

Wisconsin retained the team title with a total of 49 points, six ahead of second-place Illinois.

McEwen registered his surprising upset of Gehrmann over the four-mile grind in 19 minutes, 44.5 seconds. That broke the course mark of 20:26.4 set by Gehrmann in 1947.

A long-striding runner from Ottawa, Can., McEwen thwarted Gehrmann's bid for a third straight individual crown by wresting the lead from the Badger star in the third mile and ran him out of gas the rest of the way.

Other team scores: Indiana 91; Minnesota, 106; Iowa, 114; Purdue, 120; and Ohio State, 142. Michigan had only two men entered, three fewer than the minimum squad of five for scoring. Northwestern was not entered.

Hottest Big Ten Grid Race In Years Heads Into Stretch Today

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The hottest Big Ten football race in 18 years pounds into its semi-final round tomorrow with three games involving five of the six teams still in the title or Rose Bowl picture.

The ranking contest is the showdown at Columbus between Illinois and Ohio State, which are tied at 3-1. Michigan currently deadlocked for first place with Michigan at 3-1.

Michigan tomorrow entertains last-place Indiana (0-4) and the last conference scarp takes Wisconsin (2-1) to Iowa (3-2) for an elimination among the league's two "sleepers" of the season.

Minnesota, which still nurses a slim Bowl hope with a 3-2 record, invades Pittsburgh for a non-loop joust. Two other non-conference games tomorrow, find Purdue (1-4) host to Marquette and Northwestern (2-4) greeting Colgate.

Not since 1931 when Northwestern, Michigan and Purdue shared the crown each with a 5-1 record has a conference title chase been so complex. And back in those days there was no Rose Bowl goal to further complicate the situation.

Michigan, ineligible for a Rose Bowl return, is the only one of the current leaders not battling as hard for a bid to that post-season classic at Pasadena as for a piece or all of the title.

Despite the mathematical possibilities of Minnesota, Iowa or Wisconsin to horn into the throne room, the Illinois-Buckeye tussle is the key game of the weekend, if not the season.

Ohio State, a one-touchdown favorite, must beat the Illini to keep them from possibly parlaying their "extra game" schedule into a title coup while the Buckeyes close a week later against Michigan.

An Ohio triumph over Illinois, coupled with Michigan's expected walk over Indiana, would set the stage for a dramatic title showdown exclusively between the Wolverines and Buckeyes at Ann Arbor.

But if Illinois splits the Buckeyes, the Champaign crew will close against a wobbly Northwestern all most certain to wind up with a 5-1-1 record and a 766 percentage since the games count a half-game won and lost.

Then the pressure would be on Michigan against Ohio State in their traditionally high-tensioned battle. The Wolverines need sweeps over Indiana and the Buckeyes to clinch their third straight title with a final 5-1 record and a winning .833 percentage.

In the latter event, however, Illinois probably would be the Rose Bowl candidate.

Experts Only Wonder How Much Irish Will Win By
New York, Nov. 11.—(AP)—In the opinion of the football experts, it is the mark this great Irish squad will be shooting at, if Coach Frank Leahy doesn't clamp on the brakes, was a 64-0 job done on Dartmouth in 1944. Some 30,000 North Carolina supporters who will be packed into the "home or mammoth" tomorrow scoff at the possibility of such a rout.

Scattered Showers Forecast
The footing promises to be sound and fast for Notre Dame's corps of feet, bullet-running backs. Only light, scattered showers are forecast for the next 24 hours, and the temperature is supposed to remain in the upper fifties.

Dimming the Tar Heels' hopes of setting off some offensive fireworks of their own was the sad fact that All-American Charlie Justice still was limping on a sprained right ankle when the southern squad worked out at the stadium today.

While it is more than likely that Justice will get into the game, if only for a brief period, his chances of making an effective showing are scant. His kicking will be sorely missed, and the Tar Heels, from all accounts, possess no other runner or passer of approximate caliber.

Notre Dame, as most must know by this time, has sailed through 34 straight games without defeat, dating back to 1948. In its six victories this season, the Leahy machine has rolled up 231 points to opponents' 53.

North Carolina, rated a national power in pre-season forecasts, won its first four games and then took two surprising reverses, losing to Louisiana State 13-7 and Tennessee 35-6.

Before the Tar Heels came unstruck, however, every one of the 57,000 seats in the stadium had been sold and speculators appeared to be set for a rich harvest. Related realization this week that Justice would not be able to shine and that the southern team apparently was in for a beating brought prices tumbling down to face value the past few days, with plenty seats available.

David Prince Fives Take Two Contests From Our Saviours
David Prince cagers copped both ends of a double-header basketball session from Our Saviour's quintets on the DP boards last night.

Bob Scott led the eighth-grade junior high boys to a 35-25 victory over the east-siders. He scored 14 points, Dowing tallied 11 times for Our Saviours.

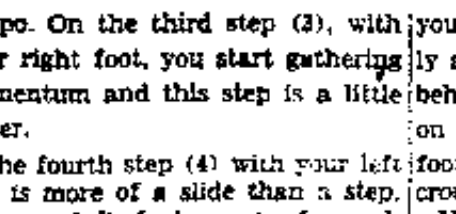

The DP seventh graders carried off a 41-31 decision in the preliminary. Woodward and Spire collected 11 and 10 points for the winners while Flynn got 11 for Our Saviours.

Brick Owens, AL Umpire For 22 Years, Dies Friday

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Clarence (Brick) Owens, 64, who started umpiring at 16 as a result of a pistol accident and became a 22-season American league arbiter, died of a heart attack today.

Big strapping Owens collapsed at the office of a wholesale mat firm where he was a salesman. A fire department squad worked over him fruitfully for 20 minutes. Owens was born in Milwaukee on March 31, 1885.

Owens was retired on pension by the American league in 1937 after umpiring continuously from 1916 in the junior circuit. He left the profession because of a heart condition.

Brick, who picked up that nickname when he was pelted with a brick-bat early in his career at Pittsburgh, Kan., saw service in five world series—1918-22-25-28-34.

Legend had it that his umpiring profession developed in 1901 after he accidentally wounded himself in the hand with a revolver he had purchased in Chicago to celebrate the Fourth of July.

He was unable to play in a semi-pro game and when the officiating proved bad in the game, Owens was drafted to umpire. He got 50 cents for the job. He umpired the following two Sundays, also for 50 cents.

Jerseyville Ivy Champs Smother Pleasant Hill 44-0

Jerseyville — Exploding for 26 points in the fourth quarter Jerseyville's Illinois Valley conference championship football team racked up its eighth league win at the expense of Pleasant Hill here last night. The final score was 44-0.

Panther mentor E. W. Hatt played his freshman-sophomore eleven through the first half. He inserted his varsity crew into the fray late in the second half and that's where the fireworks ensued.

Bill Reynolds zipped 22 yards for the first Jerseyville touchdown in the second quarter, giving the Panthers a 6-0 halftime edge.

It was Reynolds again, getting the second of his three TD's in the third chapter. Left End Smith, legged 26 yards on an end around to give the Panthers an 18-0 margin as the third quarter ended.

The big boys went to work in the last frame. Reynolds plunged six yards for a score with Jim Warford converting. Dale Bridgewater raced 48 with another touchdown and Warford again made the extra point.

Warford hit pay dirt for the Panthers when he intercepted a desperate Pleasant Hill pass and sprinted 36 yards. Bridgewater collected another tally for the winners with a 23 yard punt.

Roodhouse Blanks White Hall 39-0 To Finish Season

Roodhouse — The Roodhouse Railroaders state-tracked their ancient football rivals from White Hall 39-0 Thursday afternoon to reach fourth place in Illinois Valley conference standings.

Don Crabtree scored for Mason Campbell's gang early in the first period, skirting end from the 15 yard marker. He made it 7-0 on another end jaunt for extra point. Harold Garner scored for the Railroaders later in the first canto. The extra point try failed.

Garner plunged over again in the second chapter. Ranton tossed a 40-yard pass to Sifton and the half ended with Roodhouse out front 23-0.

Crabtree got his second touchdown in the third period, cracking off tackle from two yards out. He made it 32-0 with the extra point. Ranton passed to Talley for the final Roodhouse tally.

Announce Starters For IC-Augustana Grid Mix Today; Kick-Off 2 PM

probable starters:
Blueboys: Longer (Capt.) LE, S. Spink LF, Mathews LG, Lasley C, Florence RG, J. Spink RE, Christison RE, Groves QB, Billings or DeLaPaz, Wails, Gross.

Augustana: Schryver, Hulslander, Simonsen, Nyberg, Fetzer, Oakes (Capt.), Johnson, Jacobson, Anderson, Whalen, Whalen, center.

The kick-off will be downfield at 2 o'clock this afternoon signalling the beginning of the end of local football for the '49 season.

All Miller is throwing his Illinois College Blueboys against the invading Augustana Viking eleven on the JHS battlefield today. The game has been heralded all week as a top flight Little Nine tussle and will mark the cessation of hostilities for both clubs this year.

The battling Northwestern from Rock Island, Ill., are bringing with them a perfect 4-0 Little Nine conference record. They are currently locked in a first place tie with Wheaton who tangles with Millikin this weekend.

Everything To Gain
The Miller men have everything to gain in this fracas. They've already compiled a successful season by most college standards, showing a record of four wins, one tie and two losses. Going into this league tussle a definite underdog, the local Hilltoppers can cause a great deal of commotion in the conference with an upset besides showing themselves a few notches up from their fourth place standing in the OGI.

Best news heard from the west end campus all week heralded the return to form of block-busting fullback Bill Gross, sharpshooting passer Bob Grove and the speedy Ray Watts. This trio of backfield assets was sidelined for most of the Wash invasion last week but is ready to go on schedule this afternoon.

Grove's passing, Gross' line-smashing tactics and Watts' speed around the ends just about comprise the Blueboy—or any other team's—offensive attack, and without them the locals are powerless.

DeLaPaz, Smith Back
J. J. DeLaPaz and Don Smith, a pair of chunky workhorses, have also returned to form and will be running for the Hilltoppers.

As previously announced, the Blueboys forward wall is ready and "tartin" for this important season's finale. Three forwards, Don Longert, end; and Jim and Sam Spink, tight tackles are seniors and playing their last game for the Blue clad gridgers. Other starting linemen are George Florence and Bill Mathews, guards; Ralph Christison, end and Paul Lasley, center.

Six lettermen return to Hillman off the winless '48 outfit. Four boys stretch over six feet tall and give promise that the cage sport on the uptrend in the Little Nine county town.

The six-footers are letter-winners Walter Deterding, Eddie James, Harold Edson and Tom Barnett. A diminutive guard, Wayne Hubbig, also a letterman, will round out the starters. Gerald Hoots is the sixth veteran.

Some promising underclass material looms as a definite threat to the vets. This bunch includes Tony Evans, Walker Schmitt, Ronald Deterding, Lou Watson, Jack Welch, Stanley Banks and Russell Collins.

Hillman, a recent graduate of Culver Stockton College in Missouri, is his first season at Bluffs.

Police Court OK's Campbell-Smith Bout Next Monday

Cincinnati, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The way was cleared in police court today for the 10-round boxing bout between Tommy Campbell, Rock Island, Ill., lightweight, and Cincinnati's promising youngster, Wallace "Bud" Smith.

They are scheduled to clash here next Monday night.

Judge Frank M. Gusweiler dismissed charges under which the glove tossers were arrested yesterday—charges of preparing to engage in a prize fight in violation of a state law.

At the same time, however, the court inferred that the legal status of professional boxing is questionable.

He said he "has serious doubts" as to the constitutionality of the law dealing with boxing.

Judge Gusweiler did not state his reasons.

The same law which provides for the arrest of any one intending to box also contains another section which permits contests when they are under supervision of a city boxing commission. Cincinnati has a city commission.

Greenfield Ties Carrollton 19-19
Greenfield — Greenfield and Carrollton prep elevens battled to a 19-19 deadlock to nail the 13 on both schools' football charts here Thursday night.

Dick Mehrhoff totaled 18 points on three touchdowns to keep his Carrollton gang in the running. The expected power running of Bob Graner was held in check most effectively by a spirited Greenfield forward wall.

Greenfield's Dean Cochran placed his booters with a single touchdown. Fullback Harold Cannady collected the other two host tallies. Greenfield plied up 18 first downs to Carrollton's six.

BUSINESS END
East Landra, Mich. — George Smith, Michigan State's conversion specialist, never kicked an extra point in high school, held the bat for conversion attempts.

The Toronto Maple Leaf, by winning their third straight Stanley Cup in 1948-49, became the first hockey team ever to do so.

New Bluffs Coach Drills 20 Cagers. Opens Card Tues.

Bluffs — New coach Harold Hillman has been schooling a Bluffs basketball squad of 20 aspirants strenuously for the past few weeks in an effort to break the Bluejeans' losing skid when they tangle with Chapin in the winter opener Tuesday night.

Six lettermen return to Hillman off the winless '48 outfit. Four boys stretch over six feet tall and give promise that the cage sport on the uptrend in the Little Nine county town.

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Hagar Blair, seeking to buy a valuable cameo which Martin Falter, an artist, claimed to own, set out to make a deal when she finds the cameo's box in her car, open and empty. She examines the box and finds under the lining a series of figures, 10-4, 8-2, and 6, engraved in the box. She goes on to Falter's home and finds him dead—murdered in his bed. She steals herself against the night and starts searching for the cameo. She does not find it, but there is a compartment under the pillow.

XI

SUPPORTING the end of the box with her left hand, Hagar Blair used her right to push up the end of the box. Martin Falter's body stopped sliding.

Hagar blew out a breath of relief. Waddling forward, she eased the end of the box onto her knees and, still awkwardly supporting the lid of the box just a crack, she caught a glimpse of what looked like several bundles of letters, each one tied with a string and bearing a label such as those usually attached to transient luggage.

As she squatted there, she was galvanized by a staircase of foot-steps on the front steps and porch. She heard a muffled pounding on the door.

"Mr. Falter! Mr. Falter!"

Hagar bounded across the bedroom, shut the door behind her and sped to the front door before Stephanie had time to call again.

"Shut up, Stephanie!" she whispered fiercely, yanking the door open.

Stephanie stepped back in astonishment. "Hagar! What's the matter? Where's Mr. Falter?"

Hagar pulled her inside and closed the door.

"Dead!" Hagar exclaimed grimly. "Decided a doornail."

Stephanie drew back, trembling, her face as white as "Dead!" she whispered. "Was he murdered?"

Hagar noted with a kind of perverse satisfaction that the girl's teeth were chattering. Now, she thought, now somebody else could feel scared for a change!

"Looks like he was stabbed."

Stephanie didn't move. "Is there—is there a knife?"

"To tell the truth, I didn't think to look for one. Come in with me and we'll see."

Stephanie was swallowing spasmodically. "Oh, no! No! I couldn't! I don't want to see him!"

Hagar squared her shoulders. "Then you keep watch out here."

ITAGAR approached Martin Falter's bed in stories, she thought, there usually was a dagger projecting from the corpse. Here, there was nothing, no weapon at all. She got down on all fours and peered under the bed. No knife. But there was a crumpled piece of something. A small square of distinctive tapestry. She meditated a moment and then stuffed the material into her pocket.

"Not a sign of a weapon," Hagar declared when she returned. "Murderer must've taken it away with him. Let's get out of here before somebody comes along and catches us hobnobbing with the corpse anything in here!"

Stephanie extended her hands. "I have my gloves on."

As they closed the front door behind them, Hagar suddenly paused. "Stephanie! How did you get up here to Falter's?"

"In a cab—oh!"

Hagar clasped her hands prayerfully and rolled her eyes skyward. "In a cab, she says! Now I'll have to think up a good reason why I was there when you walked in."

GUIDING her car up Rudin Avenue toward her house, Hagar wondered whether to tell Stephanie about finding the empty silver box.

She compromised. "Who'd you think's got the cameo?" she asked as she swung the car into the driveway.

"I wish I knew. Whoever has it has no right to it."

Hagar switched off the engine and jangled her keys, selecting the one for the house.

"House is cold," Hagar commented, rubbing her hands. Her glance came to rest on the glass door leading to the side patio. Immediately, she strode toward it. "No wonder it was cold in here, the patio door's open." She closed and latched it.

Stephanie had come in and was heading before the car heater, holding a lighted match.

"That's probably my fault. I went out this morning to pick a few geraniums. Maybe I didn't lock it when I came in."

Stephanie tilted a pale, troubled face. "You're not—are you going to go to the police?"

"And have that bunch of retarded monkeys clumping around here all night? I should say not! We both need food and rest before we start fending with Chief Peters."

She went to her room and drew the window shades against the night, and, as she did so, she glanced fondly at the glass-fronted cabinet which stood between the bed and the windows.

Now here, she thought, was something worth looking at—this carefully arranged group of lovely miniature sculptures: The one in the middle, top row, she had talked away from Reverend Charles King's collection, using warm words and cold cash. The small one next to it, with the profile of the ugly Roman emperor, she had gotten after a long tug-of-war with the Chicago Museum. And there on the third shelf was an interesting piece.

At this point, Hagar's familiar little parade of thoughts came to an abrupt halt. She stared unbelievably at the piece fourth from the left on the third shelf: It was the delle Corniole carnelian! The exquisitely carved weeping woman, the frame of pearls gleaming softly around her, the diamonds lighting tiny fires on the frame!

PONDEROUS PORKER—There's 500 pounds of sausage—nearly a third of a mile of links—wrapped up in this high hog brought to the Chicago market by Robert Hawley of Argyle, Wis. The four-year-old Duroc boar is four feet high, six feet long and weighs 1080 pounds. Packers paid Hawley $124.20 for the hog and sharpened up their sausage grinders. The normal-size Hampshire hog in foreground points up the monster's size.
